

A CAREER.
He used to sigh for riches.
He gained of wealth a store!
And then he merely sat him down
And loudly sighed for more.

WHAT IT PROVIDES

Features in Brief of Proposed Cantrill Schoolbook Bill

In brief, the Cantrill Schoolbook Bill which passed the Senate—and will probably pass the House—provides—

A Schoolbook Commission composed of the Governor, the Auditor, the State Treasurer and the three members of the State Board of Education is created. Its powers shall be purely ministerial. The members of the Commission shall serve without compensation and under an oath not to profit by any contract.

The books shall be selected by the vote of the County Boards—Composed of the County Superintendent of Public Instruction, the County Judge and the County Attorney—who shall examine samples and make a choice for each book. The votes are to be sent sealed to Frankfort and the Commissioners are to canvass the vote, just as an election board would canvass returns. The book in each department receiving a plurality of the votes is to be selected.

A scale of maximum prices, lower than the scale provided in the Hickman Bill, forms the other essential feature.

ASSIGNED SATURDAY

Mr. G. A. McCarthy, Agent, Meets With Temporary Trouble.

It will be a matter of regret to LEDGER readers to learn that Mr. G. A. McCarthy, Agent, has met with financial reverse.

The liabilities are about $4,300, with assets estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000.

E. A. Robinson for $1,000 and the State National Bank for $700 are the only Maysville creditors, the balance being Cincinnati and Eastern parties.

Attorney Allan D. Cole is the Assignee. Indulgence to slow-paying customers is the reason for this, as it is the fruitful cause of so many business failures.

If people would be prompt to pay their bill, when the merchant is generous enough to trust them, there would be much more happiness in this old world.

It is sincerely hoped that Mr. McCarthy will soon be relieved of his embarrassment, and that he will be enabled to continue the business.

A GENUINE SENSATION!

Dastardly Attempt to Dynamite Devoted West End Denizens!

Accidental But Timely Discovery of the Fiendish Plot Lays Bare the Deed!

THE LEDGER was about the first man in town to know it—save the authors and discoverers of the hellish plot—but it resolved to keep the matter secret, chiefly for the reason that it didn't want the outside world to know that Maysville ever had within its boundaries any person so devoid of humanity as to seek the destruction of property and life by the Dynamite route.

But, in these days of telegraph and telephone, with the very air filled with news, and news-gatherers falling over each other in the mad rush for the latest sensation, its best efforts were baffled; for Saturday's Br'er Marsh contained this hair-raising item—

"A colored man employed by Langefels the Plumber, while working in the cellar at Mr. W. N. Stockton's residence Thursday, found a stick of dynamite. Just how it came there a mystery. The Negro had just dropped a heavy hammer, narrowly missing the dynamite."

The shades of Thursday night had fallen gently upon the West Enders, and all had settled down to an after-supper game of flinch.

The vigorous ring of the telephone summoned The Ledger Man just as he was reaching for a "15" from the flinch pile, and the excited gentleman at the other end of the wire nervously exclaimed—

"I've got a white elephant!"
"Whattisit?" inquired the Scribe.
"Oh, it's a stick of dynamite as big as a twenty ball Roman candle, and I want to know what to do with it."

"Keepit!" was the rejoinder; "I don't want it, and don't know anybody that does; but where did you get it?"

"Why, Larry was clearing away a place to put a furnace in the cellar and found it there."

"Well, let it alone and it will stay there," was the somewhat reassuring advice.

But the sensation had dropped off the wires and broken out all over the lower end of town, and more than one nervous woman refused to sleep during that night.

Morning came.

And by this time the size of the death-dealing stick, which was originally big enough to blow a camel-back locomotive across the river, had dwindled to a foot in length.

But at 11:30 o'clock, when the infernal machine was piloted into The Ledger office under strong guard, and submitted to the Scribe for examination, it was just exactly eight inches long and an inch-and-a-half in diameter.

In fact, it was an exact duplicate of every other dry battery of its make used in the telephone service.

And it was as harmless as a last year's bird's nest.

"It is the law of American politics that no man can make himself a candidate for President, and no man can prevent himself from being a candidate for President."—From a statement made by the late James G. Blaine.

FRANCE is frequently quoted as a model of public finance; and yet the per capita debt of that country is $150. In the United States it is $11—the lowest of any country on the globe, excepting Switzerland.

In the House the other day during a discussion of the Civil Service Law, Mr. HEPBURN of Iowa referred to an interview he had had with head of a Department having 500 clerks, who had stated that he had fifty clerks who could not get to their desks if the elevators in the building were not running, and that should he be permitted to select his own force he could do all the business with 200 clerks. What a glorious—and expensive—fraud this Civil Service is!

SENATOR J. CAMPBELL CANTRILL, in his recent vicious attack on Governor BECKHAM, re-hashed a portion of his father's famous speech delivered in this city when he was a candidate for United States Senator. The Senator, in referring to the services of his father to the Democratic party, said that had it not been for certain decisions of his the Republican party might still be in control of the state. Is anything further needed to prove that Judge CANTRILL's "decisions" were more of a "political" than of a "judicial" character?

TROUBLE over the employment of a few non-Union men, which for a time threatened to tie up progress in the rapid transit subway in New York, has been partially adjusted and no further trouble is expected. The dispute originated in the employment of non-Union experts laying by the use of patent cement, with which the Unionists were not familiar. It led for a time to involve 3,000 men at work in the subway. It is the policy of your latter-day Walking Delegate that only Union men shall be employed on a job, no matter whether they know how to do the work or not.

A WASHINGTON special to The Louisville Herald says President ROOSEVELT and his political friends are becoming seriously apprehensive over the possibility that Senator M. A. HANNA of Ohio may acquiesce in the numerous appeals that he become a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. Part of this fear is based upon the delay of the Senator in issuing the call for the National Convention. The President's friends do not hesitate to express their mistrust of Mr. HANNA's supposed motives in withholding the call, and say it is seriously embarrassing Mr. ROOSEVELT's candidacy. No doubt of that, whatever!

A MOST unusual occurrence, and one tending to show that the last remaining vestiges of the animosities engendered by the Civil War have about disappeared, will be the public meeting to be held next Thursday evening in Cincinnati. This meeting will be held in memory of the late General JAMES LONGSTREET, once a gallant leader in the Confederate Army. The memorial meeting is not to be held by private citizens nor yet by Confederate Veterans. It is to be held by Veterans of the Army against whom General LONGSTREET fought. Fred C. Jones Post, Grand Army of the Republic, has called the meeting, and the officers and members of the Post have arranged the program, which is said to be a most interesting one. The meeting will be in the Post Hall. There will be a large attendance, that is assured, for the idea is a novel one, and one which for its beautiful spirit will have the support and encouragement of every good man and woman.

THE Louisville Herald says Congressman HEPBURN's declaration that "the Civil Service, as it is administered, is a fraud and a humbug," is certainly correct, if the head of a Department, with 500 clerks under Civil Service regulations, could, by selecting his own force, do the work with 200.

CONGRESSMAN DRIGGS was fined $10,000 and sentenced to one day in Jail for taking money for his influence after his election, but before he was sworn in as a member of the House. Senator DIETRICH was dismissed by the order of the Court directing the Jury to return a verdict of not guilty. He had taken $800 for his influence after his election but before he was sworn in as a member of the Senate. Whereupon The Commercial Tribune remarks that the difference between law as expounded in Nebraska and as laid down in New York ought to be diagrammed for the better understanding of the public.

"SAVOYARD" wants to know if there is anybody in the South who would enact 16 to 1 if he could! Is there anybody in the South who does not know that the whole silver business was a folly and a fake! Where is the man who does not see that Mr. BRYAN never made a prediction that the event did not explode? What did he ever say that was wisdom in the sequel? When was there ever so thoroughly and completely and universally discredited a statesman? He said the price of cotton was always regulated by the price of silver, and that it would never again pay to raise cotton until there was free coinage of silver. And millions of men believed that sort of stuff. He said an ounce of silver was worth exactly a bushel of wheat, always and ever. And he said that God had established that price. To say nothing of the blasphemy of it, we all know at this time that it was stark, staring nonsense.

SOULE SMITH'S TRIBUTE TO GORDON.

Judge J. Soule Smith, the well known writer of Lexington, who was under the command of General John B. Gordon during the Civil War, pays the following tribute to the dead soldier and statesman:

"We old fellows die in groups. The Angel of Death comes and calls the roll, and we step back into the silent majority where I have so often wished to be. On Saturday last died two men whom I knew—one of them a personal friend, Charles Foster of Ohio, though opposed to him in politics; the other under whom I served in the Confederate Army, John B. Gordon, and whose cheek I washed with my canteen of water when he got the scar on it which he carried until his death. That scar was from a fragment of shell from Torbert's Battery of the Federal Army up near the Potomac river one afternoon. He was a Major General then under Jubal Early and I was a private in Company A, Twelfth Georgia Battalion. All this stuff in the newspapers about Gordon being 'in command' at Gettysburg and Chancellorsville is nonsense. After Stonewall Jackson's death Ewell succeeded to command of the old Second Corps. Jubal Early succeeded Ewell, and Gordon, who had been Colonel of the Sixth Alabama Regiment, and then General of a Georgia Brigade, was promoted to Major General in the early spring of 1864, Evans succeeding him as Commander of the Brigade. Evans commanded that Brigade in the skirmishes at Hanover Junction and the battles at Cold Harbor in the latter part of May and the early part of June, 1864. I write from memory, but I was there.

"So I only knew General Gordon as a private soldier could know a General. Yet, boy like, I was observant of him, and several times I was in close contact with him. Never but once did I speak with old 'Marse Robert Lee.' God blessed me that much in my fruitless life, but several times have I spoken to Gordon. Once, when I tried to turn his horse back in battle, and he made me loose the rein, though I stood in front of him in hopes to stop some bullet that might otherwise hurt him; once when I washed his face from my canteen of water, and once when I was brought before him for stealing apples and had my whole shirt bosom full. He could see well enough in a fight, but he couldn't see the bulge of an apple. These three incidents I remember well—there are others not so prominent.

"He was the most splendid officer I ever saw on the battlefield—I say 'splendid,' and I mean it, just as I would say John C. Breckinridge was the most 'superb.' Of course, Marse Robert Lee classed by himself, for God only made one of him, and one's enough since Christ came. General Breckinridge was the handsomest man I ever saw, either on or off the battlefield. Marse Robert Lee was like a mountain peak on which the sweet sun rested, but the stars were very near to it, and the blue sky bent around it beautifully. Gordon was the shining scimitar which the war god wielded when he cleft his enemies. He dressed for battle as others would dress for a ball, and when the boys saw his clean gauntlets and his shining epaulets on him, they ate all their rations, lest they should die before they had a chance to finish them. He was sober, discreet and gentle. I have seen him walk while a footsore private rode his horse. Pure as Sir Galahad, knightly as King Arthur, he was brave as Launcelot and gentle as the dawn. His face grew white in battle, and the scar on his cheek grew red, or purple, his eyes blazed and 'Gordon's Brigade' stood ready to die in their tracks. Let one of them pay this little tribute to his memory."

Sheriff Haney of Boyd Takes to Himself a Beautiful Bride

Ashland Independent.

Sheriff John F. Haney and Miss Gertrude Menor, both of Catlettsburg, were married here Thursday evening.

The bride is a teacher in the Catlettsburg High School. She is highly educated, possesses both youth and beauty, being a stately brunette. She has been counted one of Boyd county's most beautiful young women.

This is Mr. Haney's second marriage, his first wife being the daughter of Hon. Mordecai Williams, the Williamses being one of the most prominent and influential families in this county.

The groom is one of the most popular men in Boyd county, and though a Republican he has staunch and loyal friends in both parties.

"I learned of the great merit of Doan's Kidney Pills over a year ago while in Pittsburgh, Pa. The use of two boxes ended all symptoms of kidney trouble. I have told my friends of the remarkable value of this preparation and advise them to get it at J. Jas Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of West Second street, and give it a trial."

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Mr. J. C. Pecor Will Help Make It So for Every Man, Woman and Child in Maysville.

Health and strength means happiness. If you are not strong and healthy you cannot be happy—you need Vinol.

We ask you to take our word for it—there is absolutely nothing known to medicine that will purify and enrich the blood, build up health and strength for every organ in the body like Vinol; simply because Vinol contains in a concentrated form all of the vital principles found in cod liver oil, without a drop of the nauseating oil; and it is nature's grandest remedy for weakness and disease.

Vinol contains no poisonous drugs, and it is not a patent medicine. It is now recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength creator for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Vinol is unequalled to create an appetite, to build up those who are run down, and make those who are too thin fat, rosy and healthy.

C. F. Derby of Bangor, Me., writes: "Vinol is the best general tonic and body strengthener I have ever found; my family all take it, and I have only the strongest words of praise to say regarding it."

Mr. J. B. Keener, deputy clerk of the Superior Court, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "Vinol is the ideal preparation of cod liver oil; it purifies and enriches the blood, induces a good appetite, promotes digestion and invigorates every organ of the body."

We could quote from thousands of such unsolicited testimonials, but we ask every person in Maysville to take our word that Vinol is all we claim for it; if it fails, we will refund your money without question. J. C. Pecor, Druggist.

GERMAN SYRUP.
We want to impress on our readers that Boschee's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market today that does relieve and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of gum, etc., which have been so highly indorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption by the great medical congresses. The consumptive, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night, and be free from the spasm of dry and racking cough in the morning. The diseased parts want rest, healing and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, etc. German Syrup will give free and easy expectoration in the morning with speedy and permanent relief. Small bottles, 25c; regular size, containing nearly four times as much, 75c. At Henry W. Ray's Drugstore.

BOARD OF TRADE

Addresses Itself to the Wide-Awake Merchants of Maysville

MAYSVILLE, KY., January 8, 1904.

To the Merchants of Maysville—Dear Sirs: On Saturday, February 20th, 1904, we have our Fifth Annual Tobacco Fair. The four which we have held in the past have proven to be very successful. They have attracted to our city the best element of all the surrounding country and a large representation from some of the principal cities of this state and Ohio. It has not only been a day of social pleasure, but a day which has brought customers to our city who have thronged our stores and gone away laden with goods from our counters. You all say, by no means let the season pass without a Tobacco Fair.

The question arises at this point, how much of a success would the Tobacco Fair be if no one displayed any more energy or interest in its promotion than you are now doing? How many farmers have you spoken to with reference to it? How many postmen have you sent out? And yet you expect it to be a success.

The Tobacco Fair is "Our Fair." This appeal is to you to go to work and do your part toward making the Fifth Annual Tobacco Fair the greatest event in the history of Maysville. Plan some novel feature by which to advertise your business. Arrange to give some souvenir of the occasion which may be carried away by the visitors as a pleasant reminder of the event. Send premium lists out in all your letters. Yours, for success,
JOHN DULEY,
President Board of Trade.

Prevent Chapped Hands!

Nothing is more disagreeable or unsightly than chapped hands. To prevent the hands and face from chapping is the question. We have a preparation of our own manufacture that is superior in every way to any other make—

This cream, if properly used, will keep the hands and face soft and white and prevent them from chapping. Ladies find Picard's Snow-White Cream very acceptable, from the fact that gloves can be worn immediately after applying the Cream. Picard's Snow-White Cream is excellent to use after shaving.

Of Many Sudden Deaths.

A disease prevailing in this city is dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Fergus Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son.

Why Not Begin the New Year BY BUYING SHOES AT Dan Cohen's Great Western Shoe Store?

When you feel your feet so comfortably clad, and realize how heavy your purse still is, you will feel new "swap" and "go," heart lighter, head clearer and in your heart only pity for the "other fellow," who is still shambling around in his old shoes, with his head down and his courage at an ebb—proportionately low. Do your best to make it so, and let us help you, and the New Year Will Be Happy.

Yours for 1904,

W. H. MEANS, MANAGER DAN COHEN'S GREAT WESTERN SHOE STORE!
